Rainbow City Concert Band Music Director Opening

SEATTLE, WA - Rainbow City Performing Arts (RCPA) announces its Music Director position vacancy for the Rainbow City Concert Band (RCCB). We are a community music organization seeking to create a diverse and inclusive environment for musical expression that promotes the equity and visibility of people in the LGBTQIA+ community.

The Concert Band Music Director is responsible for all musical aspects of the Rainbow City Concert Band including conducting, leading rehearsals and performances, selecting musical pieces, developing concert themes, and promoting RCCB in collaboration with the RCPA Artistic Director and Board of Directors.

The Concert Band Music Director also represents RCPA in the national Pride Bands Alliance (previously known as the Lesbian Gay Band Association).

Concert Band Testimonials:

"RCPA has become my 'family of choice.' I hadn't touched an instrument in 30 years. This non-audition band welcomed me with open arms and this challenge: 'Just play the notes you can.' I was allowed to grow, as a musician, at my own pace." - Pamela, percussion

"The concert band has always been a place to learn in a comfortable supportive environment for me. I never had played a percussion instrument before joining and now I have over 10 years of experience and lead the section. I love the opportunities to reach far and work to play music at the highest levels. I'm excited to see what changed flavor to our performance and what experiences our new director will bring!" - Damien, percussion

This position receives a monthly stipend of $250.

Rainbow City Performing Arts is 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization. We focus our efforts on providing a welcoming environment for LGBTQIA+ and allied artists, strengthening individual and ensemble performance skills, and supporting the greater LGBTQIA+ community throughout the Pacific Northwest in the fight for equality, acceptance, and justice. These objectives continue to serve as the foundation of the organization's vision and mission.
